

FIRST AID

Annual Refresher and Emergency Response

The Annual Refresher and Emergency Response course covers the fundamental basics of how to approach and deal with an individual in an unconscious state who may be breathing normally, abnormally or not at all. Anyone with life support training should take part in a refresher course periodically.

Programme/Course Content

A range of subjects is covered including:

- Arriving at the scene
- Casualty assessment
- Top-to-toe survey
- Recovery position
- Resuscitation
- Hygiene control

Aimed at: Each of our courses can be tailored to meet your team's requirements, whether introductory, intermediate or advanced. We can design the ideal solution to accommodate your team's ability, knowledge, practical experience and previous training.

Accreditation: OFQUAL Level 2 Award in Basic Life Support (QCF)

Further information: No formal assessment is carried out – delegates are instead monitored and assessed during the course and while performing practical tasks. A certificate valid for one year will be presented to those successfully completing the course. For more information, or to make a booking, please get in touch with our team today.
