

Safeguarding of Vulnerable People

Successful completion of the programme will ensure delegates are in the position to implement their company protection policy and improve their knowledge of the relevant procedures they should follow.

Programme/Course Content:

- Types of abuse
- Who is a vulnerable person?
- Who is an abuser?
- How to recognise abuse
- Guidelines for dealing with abuse
- 'No Secrets', 'In Safe Hands', 'A Shared Responsibility' and 'Adult Support and Protection (Scotland) Act 2007'
- Dealing with disclosure
- Summary and evaluation

Aimed at: Each of our courses can be tailored to meet your team's requirements, whether introductory, intermediate or advanced. We can design the ideal solution to accommodate your team's ability, knowledge, practical experience and previous training.

Accreditation: Compliant with the National Occupation Standards for Health and Social Care Workers and satisfies the requirements of the Care Quality Commission

Further information: The training is in line with the current legislation and guidelines and can be adapted to suit the particular client group; adults or children. Please get in touch to discuss your requirements.