

TRAIN THE TRAINER

Health and Safety Compliance Train the Trainer Course

This Health and Safety Train the Trainer course enables businesses to handle their own health and safety training without the need for on-going external support. Delegates will leave with a recognised qualification and the skills needed to deliver their own health and safety training.

Programme/Course Content

Over the course of five days, delegates learn how to deliver their own health and safety training sessions with supreme confidence and competence, covering essential topics including COSHH, manual handling, fire safety, risk assessment and more.

Aimed at: Each of our courses can be tailored to meet your team's requirements, whether introductory, intermediate or advanced. We can design the ideal solution to accommodate your team's ability, knowledge, practical experience and previous training.
